VIR_TEACH

A Virtual Solution for a comprehensive and coordinated training for Foreign Language Teachers in Europe

2018-1-ES01-KA203-050045

VIR-TEACH project aims at creating a digital space to promote the exchange of methodologies and good practices and to enhance a greater coherence between the training and practice phases in the education of future teachers of languages. Due to the need of internationalisation and convergence of the future language teachers, and the lack of a unified format for teacher training within the European borders, the creation and implementation of a digital platform seems to be a particularly useful tool to share and learn specific teaching formulas specific to this field of higher education. In addition, the project aims to create an Internship notepad, to be used by the students of the Master's degree in Foreign Languages Teaching and their mentors during their internship, with the aim to improve the assessment of this phase and the communication between the student, the tutorship and the University managing the postgraduate training.

VIR-TEACH PROJECT IN BURGOS

The 1st partnership meeting was held in Burgos (Spain), on the 25th and 26th of October 2018. The meeting was an opportunity for project partners to get to know each other, learn more about the respective national contexts and agree on the upcoming tasks foreseen by the work plan. Special thanks to our hosting partner University of Burgos for having made our stay so special and fruitful!

VIR-TEACH PROJECT IN LISBON

The 2nd transnational meeting was held in Lisbon (Portugal), on the 14th and 15th of March 2019. The main aim of the meeting was to plan the next steps of the project and share opinion and ideas about developing IO1 (Toolkit) and IO2 (Virtual Learning Environment). In the second day of the meeting partners participated in a workshop provided by the host organization. The workshop entitled Video Capture Technics for Virtual Learning Environment. Appreciation for Lusofona University for organization of a very successful and interesting meeting.
